The Year of Thrift

This year marks the anniversary of the establishment of the first savings bank in the United States.

In commemoration of this centennial, bankers' organizations are speeding up the thrift movement.

Strangely enough, this effort comes at a time when national progress in commerce and industry depend on the people's power to save.

No longer can America draw on the savings of the thrifty people of Europe for capital with which to develop its resources.

From now on the United States must produce its own capital.

An account in a savings bank insures national progress and your own independence.

COME AND GONE.

The Redpath Chautauqua Spends Five Days in Our City Giving Entertainments of High Class Afternoons and Evenings.

Chautauqua, the much looked forward to event of the summer, has for the third time, come and gone for the citizens of Yale and vicinity, but the enthusiasm remains and the five days, so full of good things, will linger in our memories to such good purpose that Chautauqua will be bound to make Yale its stopping place for years to come.

The inestimable good which is certainly accomplished by bringing these noted speakers, these line entertainers, the best of the world over, in contact with our people, is surely worth while.

There is no question but what we all feel the better and much the better, for the feast of good things which we have just enjoyed and which we shall go on enjoying as these things leave a lasting impression with us making us better men and women and better fitting us for living our lives usefully and happily.

Don't we all feel that after the Smith-Spring-Holmes Company, the first day's entertainment, that it was something well worth while, something that we are still remembering and enjoying and in the evening, that fine lecture of Dr. Bradford's "America's Destiny." Wasn't that great? Didn't you get your money's worth today?

And the second day with the wonderful address by Mr. Miller and the remarkable recital by the Raweys, the native New Zealanders, with their quaint costumes and native songs and illustrated sketches. Who did not find much pleasure and knowledge in these numbers.

The third day the charming concert by the Beulah Buck Concert company and another grand lecture by the famous Dr. Frederick E. Hopkins on "Community Building" more than made an overflow of good things but more yet was to come.

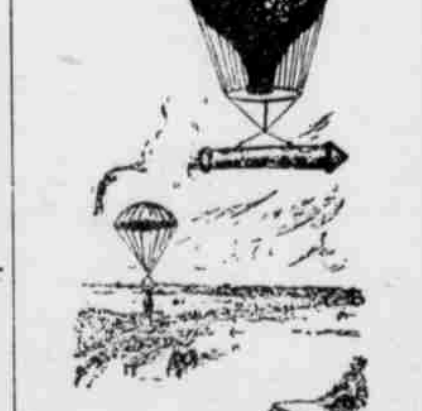

The fourth day was called Health Day and was devoted exclusively to Dr. Charles E. Barker, who gave two strong interesting and instructive lectures on "Health and Happiness" and "How to Live a Hundred Years" with splendid ideas and good advice.

The fifth day brought the celebrated Kyril band with Frank Kyril as director and fifteen members. The concert, both afternoon and evening were great and an immense audience were delighted with every number.

An hour each morning was devoted to the children in story telling and practicing for the culminating program on the last evening in the Mother Goose Festival.

This entertainment was highly charming and the young folk conducted themselves very creditably under the able direction of Miss Collins and Miss York.

This day fittingly brought to a climax Chautauqua week and all could be satisfied with the varied and spicy program given us by the Redpath people. Mr. Hendrickson, supt., has been with us twice and is exceedingly well liked. We hope to see him here again next year. His helpers have also been found courteous and likable young men.

If you follow the crowd tomorrow (Friday) your road will lead to Yale as the citizens are figuring on a large crowd being present to witness the big balloon ascension and merry torpedo drop which will take place from Main street, near the Expositor office.

The merchants of the city have gone to quite an expense in arranging for this attraction, and you are cordially invited to come and witness this thrilling act.

Mr. Riley, the gentleman who will make the ascension, has had many years of experience in the work, and is giving the very best of satisfaction whenever he works. On Wednesday of this week he appeared at Sandusky, and the event drew one of the largest crowds in the history of that city.

Remember, there is no string attached to this—everything is free, and you are invited to come and be a guest of the city tomorrow afternoon.

OBITUARY.

He still prepared for death and death or life shall thereby be the sweeter.
Shakespeare.

Francis Dagg, aged 64 years, a resident of Yale for the past 32 years, died at his home on Jones street, Monday night, August 21, 1916, at 8:30 o'clock.

Deceased was born in Bedford, Ont., April 2, 1852. After reaching manhood he was married and a family of eleven children were born to the union, ten of whom are now in life. They are: Mrs. John Gilmore, of Clarendon, Ont.; Mrs. Al Hodgins, of Sarnia; Richard J. Avoca; Mrs. Frank Holcomb, of Hilliker, Wash.; Thomas, Mrs. H. Harcourt, Mrs. Clara Minor, of Detroit; Francis, of Yale; Wilford, of Detroit; John, of San Antonio, Texas. Also four sisters.

The funeral is being held today from the E. church at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Walden Geach preaching the sermon and officiating at the grave. Interment in Elmwood cemetery.

The deceased had a wide acquaintance and was well liked by a large circle of friends, all of whom regret to learn of his death.

Mrs. Windsor, aged 48 years, wife of George Windsor, cashier of the Melvin Bank, passed away Monday morning at Edison beach, Port Huron.

Mr. and Mrs. Windsor and daughter Madeline were spending the summer at "Outlook" cottage. Deceased had been ailing for several years and everything was done for her to regain health and strength but to no avail. The funeral services were held at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon from St. Paul's Episcopal church, North Port Huron, and her remains were taken to Brown City where interment was made Wednesday. Relatives and friends in Yale learn with sorrow the untimely death of Mrs. Windsor and offer sympathy to the bereaved husband and daughter in this time of trouble. Mr. and Mrs. A. Windsor were present at the funeral services and burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hillman have the sympathy of the entire community over the loss of one of their baby twins which died Tuesday night.

G. W. Bell's Auction Sale Dates.

For thirty years and more Geo. W. Bell has conducted auction sales in Yale and surrounding country with success. A great many of the sales have amounted to several thousands of dollars, and in every instance he got as much as possible out of the property. Mr. Bell is a good mixer, always keeping the crowds in the best of humor, and his services are sought after for months ahead in order to get a sale date.

Below we give some of his dates:—

Merrill-Weymouth

Miss Hattie R. Merrill and Jay B. Weymouth, two prominent young people of Yale, were quietly married in Port Huron, Saturday evening, August 19th, 1916, by Rev. Thomas MacRobert of the First Congregational church. Miss Merrill has been a teacher in our public schools for a number of years and Mr. Weymouth has a very lucrative law practice here.

Mr. and Mrs. Weymouth left immediately after the marriage ceremony on a trip to Buffalo and other Eastern points of interest. On their return they will reside in Yale, where a large circle of friends will wish them much joy and a long and happy wedded life.

Big Family Reunion.

On Monday of this week the Murray families held a family reunion at the home of Otto Hawker in Greenwood township. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Murray, Ola Wilson, wife and family, E. F. Murray and family and Blanche Murray, of Brown City; Frank Hall and family of Lynn; Mrs. Vern White, of Elk Rapids; F. H. Campbell and family, of Saginaw; Robt. Murray and family, of Yale.

A jolly good social time was enjoyed by all present. Plenty of tables were previously prepared and a big feed was relished by the company. It was voted that an annual affair be made of this occasion.

Work of County Agriculturist

A considerable portion of the work last week was of a more or less miscellaneous nature. Loose ends were picked up here and there and the work was put in shape to leave during the nine days that the County Agent will be absent. Tuesday afternoon some time was spent in Kenosha township on the household convenience project and a mail investigation was made on the farm of S. J. Lambkin. Mr. Lambkin has an abundance of manure coming very close to the surface and all appearances indicate that it will be a profitable source of time for acid soils. A quantity was collected from different spots and has been sent to the Experiment Station Chemist at East Lansing for analysis. It is impossible to judge the richness of the material by the appearance but it is hoped and believed that it contains a high percentage of carbonate of lime.

Two important meetings also claimed attention. On Wednesday the China Farmers' Club was attended in the grove near the Gleaner Hall. This being children's day, no very active part was taken in the program, but Mr. Waldron of the Michigan Agricultural College was secured to address the people on the subject of "Boys' Cow Testing Clubs" which the State and county agriculturists are planning to get started in the county the coming fall. It is believed that this kind of a club will be found well adapted to the conditions in St. Clair county and that it is one which will enable the boys to compete with others in any part of the state. A definite plan of organization has not yet been entirely completed and the matter will be explained more fully in a later paper.

The Farmers' Picnic at Smith Creek which was held on Thursday was attended by about five hundred people. A talk was given by the county agent on "Problems and Progress in Agriculture in St. Clair County." While a picnic audience is not usually interested in substantial questions, the attention and interest shown were excellent and considering the number present, it constituted a splendid opportunity to meet the people. Also many questions of interest to those present were discussed informally with several of the different people during the day.

Interest in the hay growers' meeting at Capac, September 5th, for the purpose of organizing a cooperating hay marketing association is increasing rapidly. Judging by the comments heard, leaders in the different localities having evidently been busy explaining the matter to their neighbors and creating a favorable sentiment. Co-operative selling associations are increasing in number very rapidly and have demonstrated their efficiency to both the buyer and the consumer. There are now about forty thousand farmers' co-operative marketing associations in the United States. The organization will be completed at Walkers Hall, Capac, September 5th at 3 p. m., and the indications are that nearly every hay producer in the western part of the county will be present. Any one who has hay to market cannot afford to miss this meeting.

Work will be resumed again on August 30th.

C. L. Brody, County Agent
